Press Release: ICOR Partners with TCSolutions to Bring Data Center Training to Brazil

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Chicago, IL, March 2, 2009 - - The International Consortium for Organizational Resilience (ICOR), an international non-profit professional development and credentialing organization, has partnered with TCSolutions Ltda., dedicated to provide physical infra-structure solutions to mission critical environments focusing in Data Centers, to bring ICOR courses to Brazil.

"ICOR is honored to be able to provide education and training in organizational resilience to the people of Brazil" said James Nelson, Chairperson of ICOR. "ICOR's mission is to enable organizations to embed the culture and systems they need to provide their goods and services in all conditions and situations. Having Certified Data Center Professionals designing and managing data centers is an important part of making data center operations more resilient. ICOR's courses in business continuity, crisis management & communications, data center management, social resilience, and risk management in the supply chain, support our mission of building resilient organizations."

The data center professional development courses The Certified Data Center Professional (CDCP), The Certified Data Center Specialist (CDCS), The Certified Data Center Expert (CDCE), and the Certified Data Center Operations Manager (CDOM) were developed by Edward van Leent from EPI-AP.

"EDWARD TO ADD," said Edward van Leent, Chairman & CEO of EPI.

"EDWARD TO ADD."

"TCSolutions is proud to be chosen and certified by ICOR to bring additional expertise to Data Center professional in Brazil. Our mission is to contribute and improve engineer skill for such an important market "said Jayme Cosceli, CEO of TCSolutions. "It is the first opportunity in Brazil to have access to international trends and regulations of Data Centers projects and best practices, on a course certified and Worldwide recognized" , complements Cosceli.
