Intellity Consulting, firma miembro de Protiviti es el socio oficial de ICOR para cursos de capacitación en Español

Press Release

For Immediate Release

Lombard, IL USA, January 11, 2012 - - The International Consortium for Organizational Resilience (ICOR), an international non-profit professional development and credentialing organization has partnered with Intellity Consulting, a consulting firm that helps companies solve problems in finance, technology, operations, governance, risk and internal audit.

ICOR's business continuity courses are accredited by the America National Standards Institute (ANSI). Both the business continuity and organizational resilience courses are also taught as part of the Masters in Business Continuity degree program at Norwich University in the USA.

"ICOR is honored to be able to provide education and training in organizational resilience to the people of Latin America." said James Nelson, Chairperson of ICOR. "ICOR's mission is to enable organizations to embed the culture and systems they need to provide their goods and services in all conditions and situations. ICOR's courses in business continuity, crisis management & communications, data center management, organization resilience, social resilience, and risk management in the supply chain, support our mission of building resilient organizations."

"Intellity Consulting is honored to have an alliance with ICOR, The International Consortium for Organizational Resilience, because it is one of the best organization's worldwide that offers specialized training in exclusive courses around the world. In our case, the partnership with ICOR consolidates our strategy to offer an important and attractive Business Continuity Maturity Model course to the Latin American market. This program will help and support professionals and companies in our Region, where there is not much information on the subject. We are certain that having this course in our portfolio will make this year a very productive one for Intellity Consulting"
