

Embedding the culture and systems of organizational resilience

Press Release: ICOR Partners with APEX Global to Bring Training to Philippines, Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos and Indonesia

Lombard, IL USA, April 10, 2012 - - The International Consortium for Organizational Resilience (ICOR), an international non-profit professional development and credentialing organization, has partnered with APEX Global (The Academy for Professional Excellence), the learning solutions arm of ECCI, a consulting company focused on international standards and best practices and provides training on IT Excellence, Business Continuity, Information Security to over 800 clients in the Southeast Asian Region.

“ICOR is honored to be able to provide education and training in organizational resilience to the people of Southeast Asia.” said James Nelson, Chairperson of ICOR. “ICOR’s mission is to enable organizations to embed the culture and systems they need to provide their goods and services in all conditions and situations. ICOR’s courses in business continuity, crisis management & communications, data center management, organization resilience, social resilience, and risk management in the supply chain, support our mission of building resilient organizations.”

“As an organization committed to provide the best services and address topics of need for today’s professionals, APEX Global and ECCI are excited about this new alliance with ICOR. Through this partnership APEX Global aims to promote the right set of skills and competency necessary to drive resiliency in organizations. To start with, our focus will be on Business continuity, Disaster recovery, Crisis management and Risk Management. Considering the market we are in (SE Asia) it is an imperative to address these areas since businesses face severe threats on a daily basis from various natural and man-made disasters” said Karthik Subburaman, Country Manager.
